10 Petitioner,

11 v.

12 Brian D. Kaiser, et al.,

13 Respondents.
14

No. CV-15-01194-PHX-NVW (ESW)

ORDER

16 On October 20, 2015, Petitioner Dale Allen Severance, who is confined in the 17 Arizona State Prison Complex-Safford in Safford, Arizona, filed a pro se Amended
18 Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254. (Doc. 10). The Court
19 ordered Respondents to file an answer or responsive pleading. (Docs. 11, 16).

20 Pending before the Court is Petitioner's Motion for Appointment of Counsel.
21 (Doc. 13). Petitioner requests that the Court appoint counsel for Petitioner because (i)
22 Petitioner has no income, (ii) Petitioner has "no legal training and lacks sufficient 23 knowledge and understanding of subject matter to properly defend and represent 24 himself," and (iii) the Arizona Department of Corrections ("ADOC") has denied
25 Petitioner "legal aide." (Id. at 1).

26 "Indigent state prisoners applying for habeas corpus relief are not entitled to 27 appointed counsel unless the circumstances of a particular case indicate that appointed 28 counsel is necessary to prevent due process violations." Chaney v. Lewis, 801 F.2d 1191,

1 1196 (9th Cir. 1986). However, the Court has discretion to appoint counsel when “the
2 interests of justice so require.” 18 U.S.C. § 3006A(a)(2)(B). “In deciding whether to 3 appoint counsel in a habeas proceeding, the district court must evaluate the likelihood of 4 success on the merits as well as the ability of the petitioner to articulate his claims pro se
5 in light of the complexity of the legal issues involved.” Weygandt v. Look, 718 F.2d 952, 6 954 (9th Cir. 1983) (per curiam) (citations omitted). “Neither of these considerations is 7 dispositive and instead must be viewed together.” Palmer v. Valdez, 560 F.3d 965, 970
8 (9th Cir. 2009).

9 Having considered both elements, Petitioner has not shown that the interests of 10 justice require the appointment of counsel in this case. Petitioner has not demonstrated a 11 likelihood of success on the merits, nor has he shown that he is experiencing difficulty in 12 litigating this case because of the complexity of the issues involved. Petitioner’s filings
13 with the Court, as well as the instant motion, indicate that Petitioner remains capable of 14 navigating his proceedings and presenting arguments to the Court. Petitioner is in a 15 position no different than many pro se prisoner litigants. Should the Court determine that 16 an evidentiary hearing in this matter is required or counsel is necessary for the effective
17 utilization of discovery procedures, counsel may be appointed. See Rules 6(a) and 8(c),
18 28 U.S.C. foll. § 2254. Accordingly,

19 IT IS ORDERED denying Petitioner’s Motion for Appointment of Counsel (Doc.
20 13).

21 Dated this 22nd day of January, 2016.
